Skills for Life Support Programme

Skills for Life Publications - Order Now!

New range of services:

In the coming year (April 1st 2010 – 31st March 2011) the Learning and Skills Improvement Service (LSIS) will be offering a range of new services and opportunities to organisations to develop and improve the way in which they operate.

In preparation for this we have undertaken a review of existing paper based materials and publications. As part of our drive to reduce our carbon footprint and move to greener ways of working, LSIS will only publish materials and publications electronically via the Excellence Gateway.

Distributing all remaining stock:

We have stocks of materials, including the following, which you can order free of charge for use in your organisation:

- Assessment Materials
- Embedded Learning Materials covering a range of vocational, employability, health and community contexts
- Learner Materials available from Entry 1 to Level 2

Please note that some of these materials were developed a few years ago but are still highly relevant for use within Skills for Life provision.

Order now:

There is no limit on the amount you can order, whilst stocks last, but please submit your order by Wednesday 17th March 2010 using one of the following methods:
